What worship, for example, in mere washing? Perhaps one of the most moral things a man, in common cases, has in his power to do. Strip things into the lumpy pool and running brook, and there wash and be clean; though will step out again a purer and a better man.

Future of New York Democracy.

The glory and the strength of the Democratic party lie in the personal appeal of its promises to the hearts of men. Under a multitude of forms, in all manner of guises, the spirit of Democracy has spontaneously come to those men who have instilled their own distinct, respect their own capacities and believed with all their hearts that no strengthening of government could supply to individual citizens that character and intelligence upon which all representative government finally rests.

Principle vs. Policy.

The Cleveland Leader has been paying its respects to the prosperity of the South. As an evidence of Southern progress it mentions that in the past five years our manufacturing capital has increased from $87,500,000 to $140,818,217, a growth of more than 50 per cent. The value of its factory products increased during the same time $200,187,127, or at the rate of $10,000,000 a year. Its farm products, aside from cotton, aggregated $1,200,000,000 in one year. The cotton and cotton-seed crops were worth $700,000,000 in the best year, and upon the cotton depended three-fourths of the staples operated in the world. Each month the South has been putting out 2,000,000 barrels of petroleum, 600,000 tons of coal, and 200,000 tons of pig-iron. Annually, it has been adding 250 miles to its railroads. It has been contributing about 10 per cent of the export trade of the country. The capital of its financial institutions has been increasing at the rate of $50,000,000 a year. The South has been adding 23,000 acres a day to its aggregate wealth.

The Situation in Cuba.

Mr. W. R. Gonzales, editor of the Columbian, is the son of a Cuban, and therefore has a peculiar interest in the affairs and welfare of the young republic. In an interview with a representative of the Columbian, he says that the whole trouble in a word is the cause against the United States and against the Federal government. It would be glad to see Cuba become an American State, with the consent of the United States, but that it is unwilling to accept a condition that Mr. Roosevelt and his administration consider interference in its affairs with a view to its independence. He says that he is not in favor of the United States taking any part in the affairs of Cuba, and that he is not in favor of the United States taking any part in the affairs of Cuba.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Excursions from London to Paris and return, allowing fourteen hours in Paris, are advertised at $10.
A Japanese company, with a capital of $1,000,000, has been organized in the American method in the Oklahoma.
The London general postoffice recently announced that it will be closed on the 1st of October.
An Italian man who contended with England for control of the Nile, in an obscure street in Cairo, friendless and broke, in his seventieth year.

Rhymes for To-Day

The Battle of Buffalo.
I WAS a glad September night
After Southey, who can't mind now,
I sat down to write the rhyme,
And by him, with an eye to gain,
Sat eager little Art Brisbane.

Suicide.

Replying to physicians who had expressed a contrary view, a correspondent of the Medical Record, whose opinions we find quoted in the New York Evening Sun, urges that suicide is almost invariably a question of psychology. This is the familiar view and, so far as the layman's comprehension goes, certainly the correct one. Suicide is, as a rule, "a symptom of some form of insanity, permanent or temporary, in which the emotions and passions are excited or perverted."

SUICIDE.

The act of self-destruction is a mark of a thinking and conscious being. Man is the only suicide; the lower animals never destroy themselves, outside of the highly colored worms of a certain school of nature-writers. Suicide grows more frequent as civilization increases, which may mean simply that man's capacity for suffering grows faster than his ability or willingness to bear it.
